

Did You Know
By Pat J. Kirwin

THAT the villages of Ashville and New Holland were almost completely destroyed in the summer of 1898 by two disastrous fires, which occurred within two weeks of each other. Damages totaling nearly $50,000 were suffered in the two blazes, with the valiant efforts of the Circleville fire department probably saving the Harrison-twp village from complete destruction.

The Ashville fire, the worst in the village's history, started in the building of Dr. D. H. Squire on the evening of June 17. Its origin was unknown and presumably never determined, but before the spreading flames had been stamped out, two large frame buildings had been eaten up by the fire, several outhouse structures were severely damaged and four families were left homeless.

It was to this fire that the Circleville fire department made a near mile-a-minute run, reaching the scene within ten minutes. Besides Dr. Squire's building, the frame dwelling of George C. Morrison was destroyed and several nearby structures were badly damaged. Loss ran more than $10,000.

Like the Ashville fire, the New Holland conflagration, occurring in the first week of July, 1898, was of undetermined origin, but was far more disastrous. Damages wrought by the blaze, which swept through several business blocks in the Perry-twp village, exceeded $30,000.

That The Herald of August 27, 1898, also records that "Little Orin Dreishack, aged seven, of Pickaway-twp," also had a fire of his own on August 24. The newspaper records that Orin celebrated "the declaration of peace with a $25 bon-fire." When asked where he got the match to set the straw rick ablaze, the lad allegedly answered, "Why I wasted two before I got it started."

THAT 36 years ago this fall, L. T. Shaner, safety director, suffered an accident which cost him the loss of his small finger on the left hand and the thumb at the first joint on the right hand. Mr. Shaner was working with his father, in the repair of the Darbyville bridge in August, 1898, when his left hand was caught in the cogs of a pile driver. In attempting to extricate this hand, the right hand was also caught and the thumb was torn off at the first joint.

That O. E. Niles, father of Charles Niles, S. Washington-st, was named as a member of the state library board in September, 1898, by Governor Bushnell. He succeeded one-time President Rutherford B. Hayes of Ohio.

That a single chime whistle, one of the largest of its kind at that time in America, informed Circlevillians about the weather in the summer of 1898. The whistle, placed on the Crites Brothers factory here, sounded weather signals throughout the day and the local residents, by the use of signal cards, were able to interpret the sounds. The weather data was furnished by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

That 36 years ago when there were 43 liquor dealers in Pickaway-co, the county realized more than $30,000 per year from taxes from liquor sales. In July, 1898, the distribution for the first half of the year amounted to $15,050, of which $10,850 went to Circleville. Thirty-one of the dealers were located in this city.

DAVEY, WEST TALK IN CITY NEXT WEEK

Candidate For Governor Comes Tuesday Evening; Granville Man on Saturday; Republican Series Starts at Ashville Wednesday Evening.

Three meetings of importance to the Democrats of Pickaway-co and a series in which the Republican side of the political question will be discussed are in the offing for the next two weeks. Both parties will continue their activities until the final day of the campaign.

For intense activity this campaign seems to have others in recent years far outshaded.

The Democratic standard bearer in the state, Martin L. Davey, will invade Circleville Tuesday evening to address an outdoor meeting of Democrats. If the weather remains agreeable he will speak at the courthouse; if inclement his appearance will be transferred to Memorial hall.

COMES FROM CHILLICOTHE

The meeting will start about 9 o'clock, depending upon how well the candidate's schedule is followed through the day. His speech here will be his fifth of the day. He comes here from Chillicothe where he is scheduled at 7 o'clock.

Several others are expected to appear on the program.

The second Democratic meeting will be staged at Williamsport on Friday evening with a mass meeting in the town hall. Congressman Mel G. Underwood is scheduled for this address with George G. Adkins, chairman of the county executive committee, not certain who else will appear.

WEST TO DRAW CROWD

Saturday afternoon a highlight of the campaign, and a feather in the cap of the women's organization, will be staged at the American Hotel where Congressman Charles West, of Granville, will speak at a luncheon. Two hundred available tickets are being sold like "hot cakes" so it behooves all who expect to attend to obtain tickets as early as possible.

The Republican party's program, to be climaxed with Paul Herbert, candidate for lieutenant governor here Nov. 3, follows: Wednesday, Oct. 24, at Ashville, J. W. Harding, speaker; Oct. 25, New Holland, John M. Vorys, speaker; Oct. 30, Williamsport, Paul Selby, speaker; Oct. 31, Five Points, Judge Harry Jewell, speaker.

WITH BILL PICKREL

Congressman Underwood is filling a complete schedule from now until election time. Two days this week he was with a caravan through Ross-co during which time large crowds heard the speakers, William G. Pickrel, of Dayton, also being in the motorcade. Underwood also addressed several large meetings in other counties of his district.

STATE DENIES CASH IN UTILITY SURVEY

CHILLICOTHE, Oct. 20.—If this city wants a survey of its light and water possibilities it must provide the necessary finances itself state relief officials have announced. A project asking $8,030.40 for hire of engineers, draftsmen, etc., who were to have made a preliminary survey and water plant was refused by the relief commission.

A spokesman for the state body said: "It is purely a city function to promote their own ideas and make their own surveys and plans."

It was the hope of Mayor W. S. Barrett to complete preliminaries attendant upon a light and water plant with relief funds to a point where there would be sufficient data whipped together to put the proposition on the ballot next fall for vote of the electorate.

The relief proposal provided for $8,030.40 for hire of eight engineers, one rodman, one draftsman, one stenographer, four skilled laborers, one electrician, one carpenter, and one well-driller, a total of 18 persons.

There was also a sum included of $120 for rental of well-digging equipment to be used in making test borings to obtain the site for the municipal water wells.

Mayor W. S. Barrett said he expected to figure a way out when informed of the commission's action this morning.

Police Court

M. E. Swackhammer, Williamsport trucker, paid a fine of $25 and costs to Squire H. O. Ewell on a charge of operating a motor vehicle with fictitious tags.

Allen Floyd, Tarleton, was arrested Friday evening for intoxication and a fine of $5 and costs was suspended by Mayor Cady in a hearing Saturday morning.

TRIO INJURED AS AUTOS HIT

Williamsport-pk Is Scene of Crash; Cincinnati Man Suffers Broken Leg.

Five persons narrowly escaped death early Friday evening when two automobiles crashed at the intersection of Routes 22 and 104, several miles west of Circleville on the Williamsport-pk. However, only three of them were injured sufficiently to need hospital aid.

George Plageman, of 5010 Western Hills-ave, Cincinnati, suffered a broken right leg and his wife has numerous cuts and bruises. Both were patients in Berger hospital Saturday, William Merritt, of 2231 Lexington-ave, Springfield, suffered cuts on his head, but after treatment by Dr. E. S. Shane was discharged from the hospital.

Merritt was accompanied by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Florence Clark, and her daughter, Yvonne. The Plagemans were in a DeSoto and were traveling toward Cincinnati on Route 22. Merritt was driving a Chevrolet south on Route 104. The DeSoto was demolished.

Mrs. Clark Hunsicker, who was passing the scene of the crash, took the injured to the hospital. Sheriff Charles Radcliff and Deputies Custer and Armstrong investigated the crash.

Gilbert Francis, 124 E. Ohio-st, was receiving treatment today for internal injuries he suffered Thursday night when his parked automobile was struck by the truck of Elden Waterman, 708 S. Main-st, Washington C. H., west of the Scioto river bridge.

Francis' wife and three children were bruised but not seriously hurt.

TOWSON PROPERTY IS WORTH $123,497

LANCASTER, Oct. 20.—The estate of the late Charles Towson, realtor, is valued at $123,497.83 according to inventories filed in probate court. The greater portion, $105,560, is in real estate holdings.

Col. Hughes Urges Four Liquor Set-up Changes

COLUMBUS, Oct. 20.—Complete reorganization of the state liquor department through a four-point plan was demanded today by Col. John A. Hughes, Ohio liquor control director.

In what was probably the most out-spoken of his famously blunt statements, Col. Hughes branded the present set-up as "impossible" and declared that "it won't work."

TO RETIRE SOON

His program, which will be submitted to Gov. George White as his swan song when he retires from the office to accept a federal position, recommended:

1. Elimination of the present liquor board and directorship in favor of a three-man commission or a director with powers of an absolute dictator.

2. Abolishment of the $1 a gallon state tax on liquor so that prices can be lowered to allow competition with bootleggers.

3. Provision for the department

Merchants Warned Of Check Artist

Local business places were warned today to be on the look-out for a middle-aged man who has passed checks on Chillicothe business houses and may attempt the practice here.

According to Clark Graves, Chillicothe bank officer, he uses the name of C. H. Hinkle and C. H. Burns. Checks of the Kingston First National bank are being used. A small purchase is made in each case with a check for a slightly larger amount proffered.

"WE'LL CATCH HIM"—PURVIS

Robinson Continues to Evade Arrest; Reported in Many States.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 20.—An old man selling newspapers today stood in the middle of Fourth-st—Louisville's Broadway—and hawked:

"Robinson keeps on going places—they don't seem able to get him."

And Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., the Nashville boy, with ice in his heart and a crack in his brain, continued to play will-o'-the-wisp as a special grand jury met to indict him for the kidnaping of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll. Mrs. Stoll will not be called as a witness.

The ace sleuths of the department of justice plugged doggedly along the trail but there were many cross-roads to confuse them.

"WE'LL GET HIM"

Melvin Purvis, the Chicago federal agent who "got" Dillinger, frankly admitted the investigators were stymied.

"I have no more idea of the whereabouts of Robinson than you have," he said. "But we'll get him, sooner or later."

The fugitive's eccentricities, his ego, his talkativeness, were counted on to turn him up in time. It was assumed he was shrewd enough to chance his "flashy."

CITIES' RECEIPTS SHOW HUGE DROP

COLUMBUS, Oct. 20.—The state tax commission's research division came forward today with statistics showing that total revenue receipts of all Ohio cities dropped from $217,964,301 in 1930 to $174,795,978 for 1933.

At the same time total government expenditures for all purposes except the purchase of land and improvements of a permanent nature diminished from $183,247,573 in 1930 to $166,833,965 for 1933.

Besides the precipitate decline in both receipts and expenditures it must be borne in mind that in 1930 when total receipts as well as expenditures greatly outstripped those of 1933, Ohio had only 92 municipalities classed as cities. In 1933, the totals included 110 cities.

Prepared under the direction of Carlton S. Dargusch, tax commissioner, the information will be used to familiarize the legislature with the extent to which cities already have applied an astringent to expenditures.

HOUSING COMMITTEE GIVEN INFORMATION

A number of interested persons attended the meeting of the Better Housing Committee at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Friday evening and heard much information about the Federal Housing Act when Mr. Corotis, representing the federal government, showed a talking picture giving detailed information about its operation.

After the showing of the picture questions were answered by Mr. Corotis.

WORK STARTS ON ASHVILLE PROJECT

15 Men Given Work as Construction Enters Early Stage; Cost $66,000.

Work on Ashville's $66,000 waterworks project was started Thursday by E. C. Bartling and Son, Columbus, contractors for the distribution system.

The start was made at Cherry-st on the west side of Long-st and the machine had gone only a few feet when a stone culvert was encountered the existence of which had long been forgotten by even the oldest residents of the town.

The start was made at that point to allow use of the city well to furnish water for testing the lines and will be carried as far north as Station-st and then go east through Community park to the well drilled last fall.

About 15 Ashville laborers are employed and this number will be increased as the work progresses.

Action to obtain the Public Works project was started a year ago by public spirited citizens of Ashville.

BRUNO RUSHED TO JERSEY TO FACE CHARGES

Loses Plea to Evade Extradition in Lindbergh Abduction Case

DENIES HIS GUILT

Arraignment on Recent Indictment is Delayed

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Oct. 20.

Bruno Richard Hauptmann was New Jersey's prisoner today—occupant of cell No. 1 in the Flemington jailhouse on the first stop of what Jersey officials boasts will be a speedy but fair trip to the electric chair at Trenton.

Leaning backward in their plan to give the New York carpenter every courtesy in their power, New Jersey officials changed plans

WIFE MOVES, TOO

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Accompanied by her 11-month-old baby, Manfred, Mrs. Anni Hauptmann prepared today to move to Flemington, N. J., to be near her husband, Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

Although she still insisted her husband was innocent, the blonde German housewife looked haggard when informed he had lost his last fight to escape extradition.

at the eleventh hour and announced that Hauptmann would not be arraigned today on the charge for which he stands indicted—murder of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr.

Because he is already indicted and lodged in jail here with the consent of the governor of New York state, Hauptmann will be held in his cell until next week for the final arraignment which, in New York state—would be the first step in the legal procedure.

HAUPTMANN PALE

Pale and shaking, more discouraged than at any other time since his arrest, exactly a month ago, Hauptmann was whisked out of the Bronx-co jail in New York City last night at the climax of a dramatic last ditch fight by his counsel to save him from prosecution in New Jersey.

His counsel's plea for a new hearing on an unsuccessful habeas corpus writ was swept aside by five judges of the appellate division an hour and a half after they heard his argument. Hauptmann wasn't in the court room.

On his arrival here, Hauptmann was taken immediately to his cell. Once there he shouted:

"I swear to God I didn't do it."

Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf who had come to question Bruno; Attorney General David T. Wilentz and Sheriff Curtis were his auditors.

The officers stood beyond the bars. They wanted to run no risk

Bids Gangster Pal Farewell

Last month, Mary was denied permission to wed Pierpont, as he lay on a "death row" hospital cot convalescing from bullet wounds received during an abortive escape in which his pal, Charles Makely, condemned for the same crime, was shot down.

CITY'S FUNDS TO FACE QUIZ

Otto Investigation, Resulting in Indictment, Opens Way For New Airing.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 20.—Thorough investigation into the handling of all city funds loomed today following the indictment yesterday of City Auditor Walter E. Otto on a charge of embezzlement.

Councilman W. Herbert Dailey announced he would demand an investigation covering the last four years at a special meeting of city council today.

Meanwhile, Otto was expected to appear at the courthouse today and post bond of $1,000 pending a hearing on the true bill returned by the grand jury against him yesterday, charging him with the embezzlement of $979 through "padding" expense accounts.

Reports were circulated, but were without confirmation, that the council would request Otto to accept a suspension pending trial on the charges.

MCCURDY URGES JUDICIAL VOTES

TURNER HOLDS HOPES OF U. S. IN RICH DERBY

Fliers Jubilant as They Start Trip to Melbourne for $75,000 Purse

ATHENS, Oct. 20.—The giant American Douglas air liner, piloted by two "Dutels" airmen and carrying the passengers, passed over Athens at 9:15 a. m. a. m., E. S. T. today The craft is one of the favored entries in the London-Melbourne air race.

BERNE, Switzerland, Oct. 20.—Col. Roscoe Turner and Clyde Pangborne, Americans flying a huge Boeing transport plane in the England-to-Australia air derby, were at a height of 16,000 feet over the Swiss Alps at 9:10 a. m. today, they reported by radio. "We have left England and France behind us," they said, "and are now headed for Australia. We have been flying over clouds ever since we left the English Channel."

One hour later they dispatched another message saying: "We have now passed over the Alps and are flying on to the north coastline of Italy. The weather is extremely cold."

MILDENHALL, Eng., Oct. 20.—Flagged away at intervals of less than a minute, 20 of the world's best airplanes zoomed into the air with machine-like precision from this airport today to begin the long-planned England-to-Australia air derby, the longest and most hazardous race in the history of aviation.

$75,000 OFFERED

Three American entries and five American-made planes were among the starters. Forty-three men and four women, their number including many of the world's foremost pilots, were to fly the 20 planes over the gruelling route for a share of the $75,000 fortune to be awarded in prizes.

The first plane, piloted by the famed British "Flying Mollisons," Captain Jim and Amy, left the ground promptly as scheduled at 6:30 a. m. (1:30 a. m. E. S. T.). Col. Turner and Pangborne, were into the air next. By 6:47 the twentieth plane was on its way, the start of the great race going off without a single mishap.

In addition to Col. Turner and Pangborne, flying a Boeing transport plane, the United States was represented by Jacqueline Cochran and Wesley Smith, in a Granville monoplane, and John Wright and John Polando, piloting a Lambert monocoque.

In contrast to the feverish excitement throughout the night of 20,000 spectators who jammed this new military airport, the pilots themselves were almost nonchalant as they hurried into their planes and sped into the air.

TRIP 11,323 MILES

With Cheery farewell greetings of "Happy Landings!" and "See You in Melbourne!" the pilots bade good-bye to each other showing little evidence of concern regarding the long flight ahead of them, which, over the shortest possible route between five compulsory landing places, is 11,323 miles.

700 TO RECEIVE TWO WEEKS' PAY

COLUMBUS, Oct. 20.—Two thousand city employees, including 700 police and firemen, today saw prospects of receiving a pay check.

Walter S. Lewis, official in the city auditor's office, declared that the city would be able to meet the $100,000 payroll for the last half of September sometime next week. Previously it had been feared that employees could not be paid until a deficiency bond issue was passed by the voters at the November election.

HUSKING STOPPED BY COURT ORDER

The Church Invites You

THE POWER OF THE CHURCH

The school is not education. The bank is not money. The church is not religion. But we send our children to school if we want them to have an education; we open a bank account instead of hiding our money in the cellar.

The church is the institution which makes religion possible and useful, just as the school makes education possible and the bank adds to the usefulness of money. We all believe in religion. Why not be as sensible regarding it as we are about education or finance and use the church as intelligently as we do the bank and the school? "Christ also loved the church and gave Himself up for it." Why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?

The Pond and the River

The pond lay very still and its surface was covered with a cloak of tiny green plants. Not far off a river was running—splashing and rippling along.

Said the pond to the river: "You stupid creature, you are always on the move. You will wear yourself out. Why don't you take things easy like I do?"

Said the river to the pond: "I want to keep fresh and wholesome, and only by movement and work can water preserve its freshness. I shall flow and flow while you will be forgotten."

The words of the river became true. The pond grew smaller and smaller until it finally dried up in the dry clay and was forgotten. The river flowed on and was honored by all men for its usefulness.

THE CHRISTIAN AT PRAYER

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 6:5-15;

Ephesians 5:14-21.

GOLDEN TEXT—Rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing instant in prayer, Romans 12:12.

PRIMARY TOPIC—How to Pray.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Prayer Jesus Taught His Disciples.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Learning How to Pray.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Prayer as Fellowship With God.

I. False Prayer (vv. 5, 7, 8).

1. Praying to be seen and heard of men (v. 5). To go through the act of praying with such an object is to play the hypocrite. In praying, the soul is dealing with God; therefore, to engage in it to attract men's attention is blasphemy. Many of the prayers uttered in the public sanctuary are false, for there is more consideration given to what the people think than to what God thinks. Men who thus pray get a reward, but not from God.

2. Using vain repetitions (vv. 7, 8). This does not mean that we should ask but once for the things desired, for we have examples of Christ and Paul praying three times for the same thing (Matt. 26:39-46; 2 Cor. 12:7, 8). It means the use of meaningless repetitions, their repetitions becoming empty sounds. To thus pray is heathenish. The heathen nations in their worship engage in senseless babble, an example of which is seen in the priests of Baal on Mount Carmel (1 Kings 18:26). The reason is plain, "Your Father knoweth what things ye have need of" (v. 8).

II. True Prayer (v. 6).

Since true prayer is a definite transaction of the soul with God, the communion of the human personality with the divine personality, we should have a real desire for fellowship with God and then go to meet him in secret.

Life for its fullest development needs both solitude and companionship. Solitude alone makes one morose, while constant companionship makes one shallow. God who made us knew what our natures require, therefore he commands both public and private prayer (Heb. 10:25; Matt. 6:6). We should have our closest prayers, when all the world, its cares and pleasures, is shut out, and we are shut in with God. We should also meet with God's children and pray together.

III. A Model Prayer (vv. 9-15).

This was given in response to the disciples' request that the Lord would teach them to pray (Luke 11:1). It is not, therefore, strictly the Lord's prayer for the disciples. It involves:

1. A right relationship (v. 9). One must be in such relationship as to be able to say "Our Father." Only those who have become children of God by faith in Jesus Christ (Gal. 3:26) can pray aright.

2. A right attitude (vv. 9, 10). "Hallowed be thy name." When one realizes that he has been delivered from the power of darkness and translated into the kingdom of his dear Son (Col. 1:13) by being made a child of God, he cannot help pouring out his soul in gratitude and praise, intensely longing for the kingdom—that is, the righteous rule of Christ on the earth.

3. A right spirit (vv. 11-13).

a. That of trust which looks to God for the supply of daily bread. We are dependent upon him for our daily food. With all man's boasted progress, he cannot make a harvest.

b. That of love which results in forgiveness of others. God will not listen to the prayers of the one who has an unforgiving spirit.

c. That of holiness which moves one to pray not to be led into temptation. Such a one longs to be delivered from the Evil One.

IV. Paul's Prayer for the Ephesians (Eph. 3:14-21).

1. To whom made (vv. 14, 15). It was to the Father of the Lord Jesus Christ.

2. For what he prayed (vv. 16-19).

a. For the strengthening of the inner man by the Holy Spirit (v. 16).

b. For Christ's indwelling (v. 17). The human personality needs the quickening of the Spirit in order that it might be a fit place for Christ to dwell.

c. That they might be rooted and grounded in love (v. 17). The only way that real love can flow from the human heart is through Christ's indwelling.

d. The apprehension of Christ's love (vv. 18, 19). This love, in its depth, breadth, width, and height, transcends human understanding.

3. The triumphant assurance that this will be realized (vv. 20, 21). This realization, which is beyond human ability to even think, is to be accomplished by the indwelling of the Holy Spirit.

Drop Titles for Commoner Roles

Princess Xenia

Princess Julia Cantacuzene

America's "royalty" appears to be beating a swift retreat from titles of nobility. Princess Julia Cantacuzene, who was born Julia Dent Grant in the White House during the presidency of her grandfather, General U. S. Grant, is resuming her U. S. citizenship. After her forthcoming divorce in Florida from her former Russian nobleman husband, she plans to vote G. O. P. as just plain "Mrs." Princess Xenia of Greece, who married playboy William B. Leeds, millionaire tin-plate heir, is seeking legal permission to drop her royal title since her divorce a few years ago.

What Might Be

AMERICANS grumble so much about street and sidewalk congestion that it is a relief to be reminded occasionally of the horrible fates we have escaped. More than a crumb of comfort is furnished by visioning the conditions that would exist were some of the modern time-saving and congestion-eliminating devices taken away.

Picture an American city without telephones. There would be millions of messages to deliver somehow. If they were carried by hand, the messenger boys would doubtless be piled in business streets like snowdrifts, roof high. And think what would happen if all the senders turned out to see why their messages had not reached their destination.

If there is a moment's delay in making a telephone connection, the subscriber is loud in protest against inefficient service. He might not be so quick to complain if he realized that without the telephone he might have to make the connection on foot.

Imagine, if you can, the confusion and annoyance that would be occasioned by trying to take care of modern traffic on the narrow earth roads and unpaved city streets which the pioneer motorist used in the absence of anything better.

All in all the nation, even in the most congested centers of population, makes fairly good progress, and communication and transportation systems operate with surprising expedition under all the circumstances.

The world grows better in some ways. The young man who calls to sit in the porch swing no longer brings a mandolin.

The Prosperous Forties

A recent compilation reveals that fact that the average man is at the peak of his prosperity at or around the age of 40. Pick out all the prosperous men you know of in the public eye and you will realize the truth of this fact.

After a man has passed forty years of age, the report shows, the likelihood of his amassing a fortune or even a livelihood, decreases rapidly.

A survey of the lives of "100 average men" showed that at 45 more than half of them were self-supporting or better. Only 15 were dependent. At 55 the number of dependents had doubled and at 65 it was still increasing.

This may be taken either as a threat or a warning. It may be the scourge of dependency or of keen incentive, accordingly as it is viewed with courage or taken as an ultimatum proclaiming the uselessness of effort.

For the average man the solution lies in the slow accumulation and careful investment of savings. The same statistics note that the earlier savings is begun the greater the ratio of accumulation and the longer prosperity will endure. They are facts for the generation now coming into middle life to consider, and to be taught to the younger generation for its own happiness and security.

What a world! If you repress your anger, the adrenalin poisons you. If you don't, you feel ashamed of kicking the poor cat.

If this sort of thing continues much long, nobody will be able to avoid the chore of looking up how to pronounce "Sarajevo."

King Baseball has abdicated in favor of football, the corn is in the shock and winter is coming on apace. So what? Do your Christmas shopping early.

DEATH SONG

by JOAN CLAYTON AND MALCOLM LOGAN

CHAPTER XXIII

When I went to Mark after rest period I told him of the report that Loren had heard. He said: "Yes, I know about that. Finn stopped in for a minute. He admitted that the fingers of Joe's left hand were bruised on the top, but he wouldn't let that shake his belief that Joe took a load off his conscience by jumping overboard. He thinks maybe he hit his hand on the boat when he went over the side."

"You think so?" "It's possible," he admitted. "It's possible, too, that Joe took the grappling hook with him to make a good job of it. Finn's going to try hard to convince the coroner's jury, anyway. He's going to kill two birds with one stone and hold the inquests on Vail and Joe both tomorrow."

"You said Joe's fingers were bruised on the outside, didn't you?" "I asked slowly."

"Why," I said, "it doesn't seem possible that he could strike the outside of his fingers jumping or falling from the boat."

"You're getting to be quite a detective," Mark said. "You'd almost have to fall over backward or do a front flip-flop to hit that way, wouldn't you?"

"Yes," I thought for a minute, trying to visualize the scene on the lake during the night. "It would seem much more probable that he fell backwards—or that he caught the boat and someone hit his fingers to make him let go."

"An unpleasant train of thought," Mark said, "but a logical one. I never heard of anyone who wanted to kill himself jumping in the water backwards. It would appear that it was an accident, or another murder." He frowned and ran his fingers through his hair. "If it was either one, I'd like to know what Joe was doing out on the lake at night."

"I don't know," I said. "But listen, Mark. Last night I either heard or dreamed I heard a scream."

"Did anybody else hear it?" "Not that I know of."

"What time was it?" he asked. "Eleven-thirty."

"That was after Joe's guard left him," Mark said gravely. "It may not be murder, Bob, but it looks like it."

Sue came in. She smiled at me and said to Mark. "Did you have a nap?"

"A good one," he said. "That's fine," she said. "Let's see if your temperature's behaving."

There was a pause while she put the thermometer in his mouth and took his pulse. She took the thermometer out, looked at it and then began to shake it down. "Ninety-eight," she said. "You're feeling better, aren't you?"

"Great," he said. "My legs are coming to life, I believe. Pretty soon I'll teach you how to tap dance, angel. Want a job in my next show?"

There was a knock on the door, and Dr. Calvert came in. At the sight of him all my uneasiness was revived. But it was impossible to tell anything from his face, except that he seemed worried. He could not even smile very convincingly at Sue.

"Good afternoon," he said. "How are the legs, Mark?"

"I hardly know they're still on, they're so good. You look more like a patient than I do."

John Calvert shrugged. "I'm tired."

"You look it. Why don't you ever think of yourself? The patients can do without you once in a while."

"I wasn't working with the patients today," the physician answered.

"No," said Mark, "you were doing an autopsy. Well, everything's washed up now, isn't it? Finn told me so."

"Perhaps. That remains for the coroner's jury to decide."

"What do you make of the bruises on his hand?" Mark went on.

"Oh, Finn told you about that? Well, his hand may have struck the boat, or he may have hurt himself with the grappling hook. It's impossible to say.

"Were any bones broken?" I asked.

He nodded. "The middle finger on the left hand. The other left-hand fingers are badly bruised."

"What's your opinion, Dr. Calvert?" Sue asked.

"If you don't mind," he said, "I'd prefer not to offer any opinion. I hope the sheriff is right. If he isn't—"

He gestured slightly with his hands. We all understood him. There seemed no possible connection between the murder of the gardener—if he had been murdered—and the murder of Vail. I looked at Sue and that some of those precious weeks or days might be snatched from them prematurely. The four who fled, hoarding their precious scraps of existence, left behind them a fearfulness that might become panic and stampede.

"I have faith in their curiosity," Mark said. "Most of them would rather be knocked off than miss the inside stuff they can get here. They'll wait until after the inquest, at least. The show has to be pretty dull before the audience walks out in the middle of Act Two."

Mark was rather quieter than usual that morning. I tried to talk to him at first, but his attention wandered. He replied to some requested slowly.

Mark's eyes brightened. "Yes. So what?"

"Why," I said, "it doesn't seem possible that he could strike the outside of his fingers jumping or falling from the boat."

"You're getting to be quite a detective," Mark said. "You'd almost have to fall over backward or do a front flip-flop to hit that way, wouldn't you?"

"Great," he said. "My legs are coming to life, I believe. Pretty soon I'll teach you how to tap dance, angel. Want a job in my next show?"

There was a knock on the door, and Dr. Calvert came in. At the sight of him all my uneasiness was revived. But it was impossible to tell anything from his face, except that he seemed worried. He could not even smile very convincingly at Sue.

"Good afternoon," he said. "How are the legs, Mark?"

"I hardly know they're still on, they're so good. You look more like a patient than I do."

John Calvert shrugged. "I'm tired."

"You look it. Why don't you ever think of yourself? The patients can do without you once in a while."

"I wasn't working with the patients today," the physician answered.

"No," said Mark, "you were doing an autopsy. Well, everything's washed up now, isn't it? Finn told me so."

"Perhaps. That remains for the coroner's jury to decide."

"What do you make of the bruises on his hand?" Mark went on.

"Oh, Finn told you about that? Well, his hand may have struck the boat, or he may have hurt himself with the grappling hook. It's impossible to say.

"Were any bones broken?" I asked.

He nodded. "The middle finger on the left hand. The other left-hand fingers are badly bruised."

"What's your opinion, Dr. Calvert?" Sue asked.

"If you don't mind," he said, "I'd prefer not to offer any opinion. I hope the sheriff is right. If he isn't—"

He gestured slightly with his hands. We all understood him. There seemed no possible connection between the murder of the gardener—if he had been murdered—and the murder of Vail. I looked at Sue and that some of those precious weeks or days might be snatched from them prematurely. The four who fled, hoarding their precious scraps of existence, left behind them a fearfulness that might become panic and stampede.

"I have faith in their curiosity," Mark said. "Most of them would rather be knocked off than miss the inside stuff they can get here. They'll wait until after the inquest, at least. The show has to be pretty dull before the audience walks out in the middle of Act Two."

Mark was rather quieter than usual that morning. I tried to talk to him at first, but his attention wandered. He replied to some requested slowly.

Mark's eyes brightened. "Yes. So what?"

"Why," I said, "it doesn't seem possible that he could strike the outside of his fingers jumping or falling from the boat."

"You're getting to be quite a detective," Mark said. "You'd almost have to fall over backward or do a front flip-flop to hit that way, wouldn't you?"

"Yes," I thought for a minute, trying to visualize the scene on the lake during the night. "It would seem much more probable that he fell backwards—or that he caught the boat and someone hit his fingers to make him let go."

"An unpleasant train of thought," Mark said, "but a logical one. I never heard of anyone who wanted to kill himself jumping in the water backwards. It would appear that it was an accident, or another murder."

He frowned and ran his fingers through his hair. "If it was either one, I'd like to know what Joe was doing out on the lake at night."

"I don't know," I said. "But listen, Mark. Last night I either heard or dreamed I heard a scream."

"Did anybody else hear it?" "Not that I know of."

"What time was it?" he asked. "Eleven-thirty."

"That was after Joe's guard left him," Mark said gravely. "It may not be murder, Bob, but it looks like it."

Sue came in. She smiled at me and said to Mark. "Did you have a nap?"

"A good one," he said. "That's fine," she said. "Let's see if your temperature's behaving."

There was a pause while she put the thermometer in his mouth and took his pulse. She took the thermometer out, looked at it and then began to shake it down. "Ninety-eight," she said. "You're feeling better, aren't you?"

"Great," he said. "My legs are coming to life, I believe. Pretty soon I'll teach you how to tap dance, angel. Want a job in my next show?"

There was a knock on the door, and Dr. Calvert came in. At the sight of him all my uneasiness was revived. But it was impossible to tell anything from his face, except that he seemed worried. He could not even smile very convincingly at Sue.

Facts About "Hodgkin's Disease"

Cause of This Strange Disorder of Glands Mystery to Science

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health,
New York City

NOT SO long ago I told you about "adenitis" or swollen glands. At that time it was pointed out that neglect of persistent enlargement of the glands is dangerous.

Today I want to tell you about another serious disturbance of the lymph nodes or glands of the body. It is known as "Hodgkin's disease," and is encountered throughout the world. Its exact cause is not known. It affects females more often than males and in the majority of cases occurs between the ages of fifteen and thirty-five years.

The sufferer first notices a slow but gradual enlargement of the glands in the neck. It is painless and as a rule the enlargement occurs on one side of the neck, but eventually both sides are involved. Following trouble in this region, the glands in the armpits and in the groin become enlarged.

May Be Due to Infection

As the disease progresses most of the deep as well as superficial glands all over the body are affected. The spleen becomes enlarged and there is usually an increase in the size of the liver. For a long time the patient may appear to have good health, but as the disease progresses he begins to lose weight and soon becomes greatly emaciated.

A peculiar feature of this strange disorder is the intermittent fever that is present. It is for this reason that many experts believe the disorder is due to an infection. So far no causative germ, parasite or other micro-organism has been found.

In serious and neglected cases the disease terminates in death within two or three years. Most sufferers live far beyond this period of time and in many cases have lived their full score of years. Of course, it is possible the diagnosis of Hodgkin's disease has been falsely made. It is imperative that very careful study be made before a diagnosis is ventured.

Method of Treatment
Every suspected case of Hodgkin's disease should be subjected to a careful blood analysis. Sufferers from this ailment have definite alterations in the blood. When there is any doubt a small lymph node is removed and examined under the microscope. Then the characteristic changes and signs of Hodgkin's disease can be recognized.

Within recent years successful results have followed the application of radium or X-ray to the enlarged glands. This attempt at relief is beneficial in many cases, but unfortunately is not always satisfactory. Successful results have been obtained by the administration of arsenic in the form of "Fowler's solution." Of course, this can only be administered under the personal supervision of a physician. Often the remedy is alternated with the X-ray or radium.

Medical science never lets up in its battle against disease. It is probable that in the not distant future a definite cure will be discovered as well as a means of preventing Hodgkin's disease.

The ultimate in something was attained in New York. Two aviators stood still 26,000 feet up as they flew, at a rate of 120 miles an hour, into the teeth of a gale.

Abandoning Blue Eagle of Administration

WASHINGTON — The famous Blue Eagle which a little more than a year ago swooped down upon the Nation with all the ballyhoo of wartime frenzy now may go the way of its creator. The question of its future fate is now before inner Administration councils. Some favor complete abandonment, some favor restriction to coded industries. Probably a decision will not come until the permanent plan of the NRA is agreed upon.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture M. L. Wilson is displaying with much gusto a prized memento of his farm beet inspection trip. It consists of a rubber $5 bill. Wilson says he is going to present to Secretary Morgenthau. . . . Big Jim Farley is one of the most approachable men in Washington, but there is one class of visitors he flees. He has a standing order with his doorman not to admit philatelists. Reason is the stamp-collectors are having a big row among themselves over the first day distribution of new stamps, and Jim does not want to become embroiled in the wrangle.

Aviation Politics

Politics has been creeping into the National Aeronautical Association. Its recent president, ex-Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, was accused of swinging the association toward the Republicans. He was a staunch supporter of the airmail companies which drew luscious contracts from Postmaster - General Walter Brown. Now he is replaced by Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, staunch Democrat. Although not generally known, McAdoo was head of an aviation line which tried to get contracts from Walter Brown, but was frozen out in the now famous "spoils conference". Both McAdoo and Bingham are personally aviation enthusiasts, the California Senator making trips home in his private plane.

You Can't Win

This is one of a Safety Series released by Gov. George White through O. W. Merrell, Director of Highways.

For home modernizing a house is something like shopping around to get separate bids on the wheels, chassis, engine of an automobile, instead of buying the machine outright. Ex-Governor Kohler of Wisconsin and H. S. Sackett who worked up home modernization for the National Building Industries, found this to be their greatest obstacle. . . . A. though former Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes seldom goes out of the house, he continues to be the delight of his friends. He is a little slow of speech, but otherwise no one would notice his 94 years. . . . Johnny Baxter, six-year-old grandson of Secretary Dern, is a great stamp collector, reads the papers about the politics of the countries whose stamps he collects.

Shadow Man

Larry Richey, confidant of Herbert Hoover, remains as shadowy a figure in private life as when he was White House secretary. Returned from a visit with his chief in California, Richey denies he is interested in politics, has turned down several lucrative offers to write his memoirs, is chiefly interested in his fishing camps in northwest Maryland. . . . ## LOST 20 LBS. OF FAT IN JUST 4 WEEKS

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo. writes: "I'm only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen-Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment." Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen-Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at any drugstore—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

TIGERS, PUT UP FIGHT, LOSE

Delaware Scores 6-0 Victory Pushing Over Touchdown in Second Period; Tiger Passes Fail to Connect as Fifth Consecutive Shut-out is Taken.

The Tigers took it on the chin, Friday, for the fifth straight time this season, and at the same time sustained the fifth dose of white-wash but they put up a fight before they lost to Delaware, 6-0, in a Central Buckeye league game.

Any one of several passes, which almost made connections, might have provided a different story but that little spark that is the difference between a winning and losing team was missing.

The Tigers have yet to play Westerville and Bexley, probably the strongest teams in the CBL, and London, an independent game, before their season is closed.

GET BREAK, LOSE IT

A series of transfers of the ball featured the early minutes of the game with honors being about even. Jim Turney, college town quarterback, put the Red and Black in hot water with a long run after the first kick-off but Otis Mader covered his fumble a moment later to start the ball back up the field. Mader returned the compliment a little later by fumbling in midfield. A pretty pass on the first Tiger offensive play, Speakman to Grant, from a kick formation took the ball to that spot. It's perfection surpassed the Delaware team as well as the crowd.

Although Delaware was able to negotiate five first downs they were held scoreless the first period. It didn't take long in the second period, however, before Turney, Shisler and Hack carried the ball straight down the field in three consecutive first downs ending with Shisler crashing over from the two-foot line. Downing's placement was inches wide of the goalposts.

TWO PENALTIES HURT

The Tigers had an opportunity shortly before the end of the half but two 15-yard penalties for using hands on the offense, and for a substitute talking before a single play is made carried them back. Griffith was guilty of the former and Plum of the latter.

After an uneventful third period when the Tigers looked better than the invaders a Red and Black offensive in the early part of the fourth period was ended after a Circleville pass from the 33 yard line in Delaware's territory was intercepted by a Delaware back.

The remainder of the game featured Delaware's defensive efforts in bogging down Circleville's barrage of passes with Normie Coleman tossing nearly all of them. As said before, a couple of them were nearly completed—but not quite.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

BEXLEY ON TOP

Bexley, foe of the Tigers on the local field, Nov. 2, was in undisputed possession of first place in the Central Buckeye league today after turning in a hard fought 6-0 victory over Grandview, arch rival. The Bexleyites have two games yet to play—Westerville, believed to be the strongest team in the loop, prior to Friday, went down to a 7-6 defeat at the hands of Jerry Kingsmore's Marysville boys. The Union countians are plenty tough on their gridiron.

LUND VS. WEISENBAUGH

Pittsburgh, today, was holding the center of the football spotlight with a national championship, even this early in the season, possibly hanging on the outcome—Minnesota, a great team, is the Panther foe. We've picked Pitt to win but the result seems to be a toss-up anyway you look at it—Minnesota has Pug Lund and Pitt has Weisenbaugh.

WATTS FOR WATTS

When something happens to one Watts another takes his place and does his job well—Friday, Bob Watts, regular guard, was not able to take part in the game because of an infected foot; his twin, Roderiek, stepped into the breach and played a mighty nice game.

Some gridiron scores:

Zanesville, 21; Lancaster, 0. Washington, C. H., 33; Hillsboro, 0. Urbana, 13; London, 7. Columbus East, 20; Central, 13. North, 0; South, 0. West, 7; Aquinas, 6. Academy, 27; St. Mary's, 0. Chillicothe, 7; Marietta, 6.

Ohio Star Injured

Dick Heekin

Hopes of Ohio State for more victories in the current football season have been dimmed by the removal of Dick Heekin, above, from the lineup because of a leg injury. Halfback Heekin's running has featured Ohio's games in the past two years.

of a charge that a brutal third degree had been given their prisoner on his first night in New Jersey.

Col. Schwarzkopf said: "They tell me you know the roads down this way when you came down tonight."

Hauptmann paced across his cell, puffing on a cigarette, and replied: "Of course I know the roads down here. I have passed through here before. But I was never in Hopewell."

Wilentz spoke: "You still say you didn't write the ransom notes?"

"I never saw them before they were showed to me on Tuesday."

Colonel Schwarzkopf led Bruno over the ground he had covered so many times before—his possession of the ransom money and the automatic pistol, the writing of Dr. John F. "Jassie" Condon's name on the wall of his New York apartment. But Hauptmann, shaken though he was, stuck to his protests of innocence.

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Oct. 20.—Five guards will be assigned to the task of watching Bruno Richard Hauptmann day and night in Flemington jail—three by night and two during the day.

Four steel doors, sawproof bars and an intricate system of locks stand between the prisoner and liberty—and also possible mob violence. Three thousand spectators gave vent to a disturbing murmur when he arrived last night, and forty state troopers held them back as they pressed forward for a better glimpse of the German.

From his cell Hauptmann can see across the prison yard and into the courtroom where his fate will be decided. About ten miles away is Hopewell, from where he is accused of seizing baby Lindbergh.

BUCKS INVADE EVANSTON FOR WILDCAT FRAY

Next Conference Test Comes On Foreign Ground; Won Last Year 12 To 0.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 20.—Ohio State University's football team will jump back into the thick of the Western conference war next week-end when it travels to Evanston for a clash with Dick Hanley's Wildcats. A victory in this game will give the Buckeyes a conference standing of two games won and one lost.

The Ohio Staters took time out today for an inter-sectional game with Colgate which had no bearing on the conference struggle. For the remainder of the season, with one exception, the Buckeyes will stay within their own league.

TWO WEEKS' REST

Northwestern should be in the best of condition when it meets the Scarlet next Saturday. On Oct. 13 the Purple played on the west coast and was idle today, having two weeks of practice to prepare for the Ohio State game.

Coach Francis A. Schmidt is still a long way from being satisfied with his team but claims the only remedy is a lot of rest and hard hours of practice. Then, too, there is a possibility that there will be more juggling of men although by this time Schmidt has his mind made up as to what each man can do and can't do on the field.

Ohio State defeated Northwestern here last year by a score of 12 to 0. Then Hanley had a group of sophomores. This year they will be more experienced while the Buckeye team will be well filled with first year men.

LEAVE THURSDAY

The team will leave here Thursday night, arriving in Chicago Friday morning and will work out at the Loyola University field.

Reports came in from a half-dozen states and a score of cities of the purported spotting of the 27-year-old kidnaper.

They came from as far away as Los Angeles and as near home as Louisville and Nashville, Tenn.

Some predicted Robinson was on his way to the latter city to turn himself over to his father, Thomas, Sr., who had retrieved him from serious trouble many times before.

FATHER, WIFE HELD
His father, as well as his wife, Mrs. Frances Robinson, are allegedly involved in the kidnapping and face indictments today with the missing principal.

Mrs. Robinson was in the county jail under $50,000 bond while the elder Robinson was free in Nashville after providing a $25,000 bond.

Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Michigan were checked by agents following the reports the fugitive had been sighted in these states.

While the search was widened in the east, federal agent Purvis, directing the hunt, maintained his temporary headquarters at Cincinnati.

Harold Nathan, of the department of justice, who was in charge of the investigation of the kidnapping until Mrs. Stoll was rescued, was on an unannounced mission to Nashville.

Coletta To Abandon Stormy Phillipines

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 20.—There are too many typhoons and not enough wrestlers in Manila to suit Coletta, Mulvihill, beautiful, blonde, Pittsburgh, Pa. heiress, so she decided to forsake the Philippine Islands today.

Accompanied by her mother, the girl, who a short time ago married Tommy Green, Pittsburgh truck driver, and left him almost as soon as the couple got away from the altar, went aboard the Dollar liner President Wilson just before it sailed here today. Coletta also claims to have a previous marriage, which she says took place in Singapore, to her credit.

It isn't the youngsters who keep alive this invention of Satan known as Halloween; it's the teachers and Sunday school teachers who insist each year on bigger and better parties to celebrate it.

Miss Yates: Halloween was invented as an outlet for surplus energy in order to make me wash and scrape the paraffin and soap off my windows, replace my garbage can, rehang my swing and shutters, and clean out the sewer. Bah! Humbug!

A DEPARTMENT OF THE CIRCLEVILLE HERALD.

Fighting Through At Grandview

(An Editorial by E. I. Gephart.)
A spirit. That does not mean that we admire the person who is always trying to start a fight. We have no respect for either the individual who goes about with a chip on his shoulder daring everyone to knock it off or for the person who allows anyone to get the better of him and retreat before every attack.

We admire the spirit of the individual who will fight either figuratively or literally when the occasion demands. It may be a conviction which necessitates the mobilization of all our mental forces in its defense or it may call into action our greatest physical force to accomplish our purpose or defend our position.

Athletic contests call forth our greatest exclamations of praise for the winners. Do we have anything to say about the losers? They may have shown better sportsmanship and more fighting spirit than the winners.

Our boys showed a fighting spirit last week at Grandview which would win the approbation of any crowd. With the score against one, it is difficult to keep on fighting; but C. H. S. never let down.

Any loser needs to be applauded if he goes down fighting. May our question never be "Did you win?" but rather "Did you fight?"

HALF OF GRADUATING CLASS OF 1934 FIND EMPLOYMENT

Judging by the number of the class of 1934 who have jobs, it would seem that work is not as scarce as generally supposed.

Several girls have secretarial positions. Betty Brown is secretary to the Democratic committee; Margie Brown for Meeker Terwilliger; Luella Baxter for Robert Criswell.

A number have jobs as clerks in Circleville stores. Helen Colville in Stuffer's store; Dorothy Barnes is at the Temple drug store; Denver Greenlee at the A. & P.; Dave Harman at Barrere & Nickerson's; Lawrence Lane at the J. C. Penney Co.; Helen Heeter is in Tompkin's Ice Cream store and

Other members of the class have sought employment in the following firms: Lee Cook works for Walters' dairy; Walter Eitel is in the milk business with his father; Robert Davis is in Gordon's shoe shop and Earl Gordon is part of the same firm; Harry Hosler works for the Container Corporation, and John Porter at the Sears and Nichols Canning Co.

Bill Steele works for Steele's poultry house; Oakley Warner at the Pickaway Grain Co.; Floyd Dunlap hauls cattle for his father; Robert Campbell is in the Bowling Alley; Eldon "Tink" Hill is caddy master at the Country club; Paul Davis is married and works at Sch

DAVEY, WEST TALK IN CITY NEXT WEEK

Candidate For Governor Comes Tuesday Evening; Granville Man on Saturday; Republican Series Starts at Ashville Wednesday Evening.

Three meetings of importance to the Democrats of Pickaway-co and a series in which the Republican side of the political question will be discussed are in the offing for the next two weeks. Both parties will continue their activities until the final day of the campaign.

For intense activity this campaign seems to have others in recent years far overshadowed. The Democratic standard bearer in the state, Martin L. Davey, will invade Circleville Tuesday evening to address an outdoor meeting of Democrats. If the weather remains agreeable he will speak at the courthouse; if inclement his appearance will be transferred to Memorial hall.

COMES FROM CHILLICOTHE
The meeting will start about 9 o'clock, depending upon how well the candidate's schedule is followed through the day. His speech here will be his fifth of the day. He comes here from Chillicothe where he is scheduled at 7 o'clock.

Several others are expected to appear on the program. The second Democratic meeting will be staged at Williamsport on Friday evening with a mass meeting in the town hall. Congressman Mel G. Underwood is scheduled for this address with George G. Adkins, chairman of the county executive committee, not certain who else will appear.

WEST TO DRAW CROWD
Saturday afternoon, a highlight of the campaign, and a feather in the cap of the women's organization, will be staged at the American Hotel where Congressman Charles West, of Granville, will speak at a luncheon. Two hundred available tickets are being sold like "hot cakes" so it behooves all who expect to attend to obtain tickets as early as possible.

The Republican party's program, to be climaxed with Paul Herber, candidate for lieutenant governor here Nov. 3, follows: Wednesday, Oct. 24, at Ashville, J. W. Harding, speaker; Oct. 25, New Holland, John M. Vorys, speaker; Oct. 30, Williamsport, Paul Selby, speaker; Oct. 31, Five Points, Judge Harry Jewell, speaker.

WITH BILL PICKREL
Congressman Underwood is filling a complete schedule from now until election time. Two days this week he was with a caravan through Ross-co during which time large crowds heard the speakers, William G. Pickrel, of Dayton, also being in the motorcade. Underwood also addressed several large meetings in other counties of his district.

STATE DENIES CASH IN UTILITY SURVEY

CHILLICOTHE, Oct. 20—If this city wants a survey of its light and water possibilities it must provide the necessary finances itself state relief officials have announced. A project asking $8,030.40 for hire of engineers, draftsmen, etc., who were to have made a preliminary survey and estimate of a city-owned light and water plant was refused by the relief commission.

A spokesman for the state body said: "It is purely a city function to promote their own ideas and make their own surveys and plans."

It was the hope of Mayor W. S. Barrett to complete preliminaries attendant upon a light and water plant with relief funds to a point where there would be sufficient data whittled together to put the proposition on the ballot next fall for vote of the electorate.

The relief proposal provided for $8,030.40 for hire of eight engineers, one draftsman, one stenographer, four skilled laborers, one electrician, one carpenter, and one well-driller, a total of 18 persons.

There was also a sum included of $120 for rental of well-digging equipment to be used in making test borings to obtain the site for the municipal water wells.

Mayor W. S. Barrett said he expected to figure a way out when informed of the commission's action this morning.

Police Court

M. E. Swackhammer, Williamsport trucker, paid a fine of $25 and costs to Squire H. O. Eveland on a charge of operating a motor vehicle with fictitious tags.

Allen Floyd, Tarleton, was arrested Friday evening for intoxication and a fine of $5 and costs was suspended by Mayor Cady in a hearing Saturday morning.

TRIO INJURED AS AUTOS HIT

Williamsport-pk Is Scene of Crash; Cincinnati Man Suffers Broken Leg.

Five persons narrowly escaped death early Friday evening when two automobiles crashed at the intersection of Routes 22 and 104, several miles west of Circleville on the Williamsport-pk. However, only three of them were injured sufficiently to need hospital aid.

George Plageman, of 5010 Western Hills-ave, Cincinnati, suffered a broken right leg and his wife has numerous cuts and bruises. Both were patients in Berger hospital Saturday. William Merritt, of 2231 Lexington-ave, Springfield, suffered cuts on his head, but after treatment by Dr. E. S. Shane was discharged from the hospital.

Merritt was accompanied by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Florence Clark, and her daughter, Yvonne. The Plagemans were in a DeSoto and were traveling toward Cincinnati on Route 22. Merritt was driving a Chevrolet south on Route 104. The DeSoto was demolished.

Mrs. Clark Hunsicker, who was passing the scene of the crash, took the injured to the hospital. Sheriff Charles Radcliff and Deputies Custer and Armstrong investigated the crash.

Gilbert Francis, 124 E. Ohio-st, was receiving treatment today for internal injuries he suffered Thursday night when his parked automobile was struck by the truck of Elden Waterman, 708 S. Main-st, Washington C. H., west of the Scioto river bridge.

Francis' wife and three children were bruised but not seriously hurt.

TOWSON PROPERTY IS WORTH $123,497

LANCASTER, Oct. 20—The estate of the late Charles Towson, realtor, is valued at $123,497.88 according to inventories filed in probate court. The greater portion, $105,560, is in real estate holdings.

Col. Hughes Urges Four Liquor Set-up Changes

COLUMBUS, Oct. 20—Complete reorganization of the state liquor department through a four-point plan was demanded today by Col. John A. Hughes, Ohio liquor control director.

In what was probably the most outspoken of his famously blunt statements, Col. Hughes branded the present setup as "impossible" and declared that "it won't work."

TO RETIRE SOON

His program, which will be submitted to Gov. George White as his swan song when he retires from the office to accept a federal position, recommended:

1. Elimination of the present liquor board and directorship in favor of a three-man commission or a director with powers of an absolute dictator.

2. Abolishment of the $1 a gallon state tax on liquor so that prices can be lowered to allow competition with bootleggers.

3. Provision for the department

Merchants Warned Of Check Artist

Local business places were warned today to be on the look-out for a middle-aged man who has passed checks on Chillicothe business houses and may attempt the practice here.

According to Clark Yrives, Chillicothe bank officer, he uses the name of C. H. Hinkle and C. H. Burns. Checks of the Kingston First National bank are being used. A small purchase is made in each case with a check for a slightly larger amount preferred.

"WE'LL CATCH HIM"—PURVIS

Robinson Continues to Evade Arrest; Reported in Many States.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 20—An old man selling newspapers today in the middle of Fourth-st—Louisville's Broadway—and hawked:

"Robinson keeps on going places—they don't seem able to get him."

And Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., the Nashville boy, with ice in his heart and a crack in his brain, continued to play will-o'-the-wisp as a special grand jury met to indict him for the kidnaping of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll. Mrs. Stoll will not be called as a witness.

The ace sleuths of the department of justice plugged doggedly along the trail but there were many cross-roads to confuse them.

"WE'LL GET HIM"

Melvin Purvis, the Chicago federal agent who "got" Dillinger, frankly admitted the investigators were stymied.

"I have no more idea of the whereabouts of Robinson than you have," he said. "But we'll get him, sooner or later."

The fugitive's eccentricities, his ego, his talkativeness, were counted on to turn him up in time. It was assumed he was shrewd enough to chance his "flashy" (Continued on Page Six)

CITIES' RECEIPTS SHOW HUGE DROP

COLUMBUS, Oct. 20—The state tax commission's research division came forward today with statistics showing that total revenue receipts of all Ohio cities dropped from $217,964,301 in 1930 to $174,795,978 for 1933.

At the same time total government expenditures for all purposes, except the purchase of land and improvements of a permanent nature, diminished from $183,247,573 in 1930 to $166,833,965 for 1933.

Besides the precipitate decline in both receipts and expenditures it must be borne in mind that in 1930 when total receipts as well as expenditures greatly outstripped those of 1933, Ohio had only 92 municipalities classed as cities. In 1933, the totals included 110 cities.

Prepared under the direction of Carlton S. Dargusch, tax commissioner, the information will be used to familiarize the legislature with the extent to which cities already have applied an astringent to expenditures.

HOUSING COMMITTEE GIVEN INFORMATION

A number of interested persons attended the meeting of the Better Housing Committee at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Friday evening and heard much information about the Housing Act when Mr. Corotis, representing the federal government, showed a talking picture giving detailed information about its operation.

After the showing of the picture questions were answered by Mr. Corotis.

DENIES HIS GUILT

Arraignment on Recent Indictment is Delayed

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Oct. 20—Bruno Richard Hauptmann was New Jersey's prisoner today—occupant of cell No. 1 in the Flemington jailhouse on the first stop of what Jersey officials boast will be a speedy but fair trip to the electric chair at Trenton.

Leaning backward in their plan to give the New York carpenter every courtesy in their power, New Jersey officials changed plans.

WIFE MOVES, TOO

NEW YORK, Oct. 20—Accompanied by her 11-month-old baby, Mannfried, Mrs. Ann Hauptmann prepared today to move to Flemington, N. J., to be near her husband, Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

Although she still insisted her husband was innocent, the blonde German housewife looked haggard when informed he had lost his last fight to escape extradition.

at the eleventh hour and announced that Hauptmann would not be arraigned today on the charge for which he stands indicted—murder of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr.

Because he is already indicted and lodged in jail here with the consent of the governor of New York state, Hauptmann will be held in his cell until next week for his final arraignment which, in New York state, would be the first step in the legal procedure.

HAUPTMANN PALE

Pale and shaking, more discouraged than at any other time since his arrest, exactly a month ago, Hauptmann was whisked out of the Bronx-co jail in New York City last night at the climax of a dramatic last ditch fight by his counsel to save him from prosecution in New Jersey.

His counsel's plea for a new hearing on an unsuccessful habeas corpus writ was swept aside by five judges of the appellate division an hour and a half after they heard his argument. Hauptmann wasn't in the court room.

On his arrival here, Hauptmann was taken immediately to his cell. Once there he shouted:

"I swear to God I didn't do it."

Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf who had come to question Bruno; Attorney General David T. Wilentz and Sheriff Curtis were his auditors.

The officers stood beyond the bars. They wanted to run no risk (Continued on Page Six)

WORK STARTS ON ASHVILLE PROJECT

15 Men Given Work as Construction Enters Early Stage; Cost $66,000.

Work on Ashville's $66,000 waterworks project was started Thursday by E. C. Barling and Son, Columbus, contractors for the distribution system.

The start was made at Cherry-st on the west side of Long-st and the machine had gone only a few feet when a stone culvert was encountered the existence of which had long been forgotten by even the oldest residents of the town.

The start was made at that point to allow use of the city well to furnish water for testing the lines and will be carried as far north as Station-st and then go east through Community park to the well drilled last fall.

About 15 Ashville laborers are employed and this number will be increased as the work progresses.

Action to obtain the Public Works project was started a year ago by public spirited citizens of Ashville.

1400 Witness Rites For Father Quailley

The title of High Reverend Monsignor was conferred by Bishop J. J. Hartley, of the diocese of Columbus, with authority of Pope Pius XI.

TWENTY 'PLANES IN PERILOUS AIR TEST

Bids Gangster Pal Farewell

Here is Mary Kinder, gazing at the body of her former sweetheart, Harry Pierpont, reputed "brains" of the broken Dillinger gang, after he was electrocuted in the Ohio state prison at Columbus, O., for the brutal slaying of Sheriff Jess Sarber in Lima, O., last spring. Last month, Mary was denied permission to wed Pierpont, as he lay on a "death row" hospital cot convalescing from bullet wounds received during an abortive escape in which his pal, Charles Makely, condemned for the same crime, was shot down.

CORN DAY PROGRAM IS NOW COMPLETE

CITY'S FUNDS TO FACE QUIZ

Otto Investigation, Resulting in Indictment, Opens Way For New Airing.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 20—Thorough investigation into the handling of all city funds loomed today following the indictment yesterday of City Auditor Walter E. Otto on a charge of embezzlement.

Councilman W. Herbert Dailey announced he would demand an investigation covering the last four years at a special meeting of city council today.

Meanwhile, Otto was expected to appear at the courthouse today and post bond of $1,000 pending a hearing on the true bill returned by the grand jury against him yesterday, charging him with the embezzlement of $979 through "padding" expense accounts.

Reports were circulated, but were without confirmation, that the council would request Otto to accept a suspension pending trial or the charges.

MCCURDY URGES JUDICIAL VOTES

POMEROY, Oct. 20—Judge Russell McCurdy, of Portsmouth, candidate for the district court of appeals, urged voters to mark their judicial ballots in an address here. Judge McCurdy said only 10 per cent of the voters cast ballots for the judicial candidates.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Robert Holtzman, 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Holtzman, of Jackson-twp, was taken to Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus, Friday, for treatment. Mrs. Fred Steinger and baby were removed from Berger hospital to their home on E. Water-st, Saturday.

TURNER HOLDS HOPES OF U. S. IN RICH DERBY

Fliers Jubilant as They Start Trip to Melbourne for $75,000 Purse

ATHENS, Oct. 20—The giant American Douglas air liner, piloted by two "Dutch" airmen and carrying three passengers, passed over Athens at 9:15 a. m. E. S. T. today. The craft is one of the favored entries in the London-Melbourne air race.

BERNE, Switzerland, Oct. 20—Col. Roscoe Turner and Clyde Pangborne, Americans flying a huge Boeing transport plane in the England-to-Australia air derby, were at a height of 16,000 feet over the Swiss Alps at 9:10 a. m. today, they reported by radio.

"We have left England and France behind us," they said, "and are now heading for Australia. We have been flying over clouds ever since we left the English Channel."

One hour later they dispatched another message saying:

"We have now passed over the Alps and are flying on to the north coastline of Italy. The weather is extremely cold."

MILDENHALL, Eng., Oct. 20—Flagged away at intervals of less than a minute, 20 of the world's finest airplanes zoomed into the air with machine-like precision from this airport today to begin the long-planned England-to-Australia air derby, the longest and most hazardous race in the history of aviation.

$75,000 OFFERED

Three American entries and five American-made planes were among the starters. Forty-three men and four women, their number including many of the world's foremost pilots, were to fly the 20 planes over the gruelling route for a share of the $75,000 fortune to be awarded in prizes.

The first plane, piloted by the famed British "flying mollysna," Captain Jim and Amy, left the ground promptly as scheduled at 6:30 a. m. (1:30 a. m. E. S. T.) Col. Turner and Pangborne, were into the air next. By 6:47 the twentieth plane was on its way, the start of the great race going off without a single mishap.

In addition to Col. Turner and Pangborne, flying a Boeing transport plane, the United States was represented by Jacqueline Cochran and Wesley Smith, in a Granville monoplane, and John Wright and John Polando, piloting a Lam-bourton monocoque.

In contrast to the feverish excitement throughout the night of 20,000 spectators who jammed this new military airport, the pilots themselves were almost nonchalant as they hurried into their planes and sped into the air.

TRIP 11,323 MILES

With cheery farewell greetings of "Happy Landings" and "See You in Melbourne!" the pilots bade good-bye to each other showing little evidence of concern regarding the long flight ahead of them, which, over the shortest possible route between five compulsory landing places, is 11,323 miles.

700 TO RECEIVE TWO WEEKS' PAY

COLUMBUS, Oct. 20—Two thousand city employees, including 700 police and firemen, today saw prospects of receiving a pay check.

Walter S. Lewis, official in the city auditor's office, declared that the city would be able to meet the $100,000 payroll for the last half of September sometime next week.

Previously it had been feared that employees could not be paid until a deficiency bond issue was passed by the voters at the November election.

HUSKING STOPPED BY COURT ORDER

A restraining order preventing Harry and Clyde, of Darbyville, from husking corn on the farm of Harry McChee, has been granted by Judge J. W. Adkins on McChee's petition. The plaintiff charges the Reeds are husking his share of the corn.

The Church Invites You

THE POWER OF THE CHURCH

The school is not education. The bank is not money. The church is not religion. But we send our children to school if we want them to have an education; we open a bank account instead of hiding our money in the cellar.

The church is the institution which makes religion possible and useful, just as the school makes education possible and the bank adds to the usefulness of money. We all believe in religion. Why not be as sensible regarding it as we are about education or finance and use the church as intelligently as we do the bank and the school? "Christ also loved the church and gave Himself up for it." Why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?

The Pond and the River

The pond lay very still and its surface was covered with a cloak of tiny green plants. Not far off a river was running—splashing and rippling along.

Said the pond to the river: "You stupid creature, you are always on the move. You will wear yourself out. Why don't you take things easy like I do?"

Said the river to the pond: "I want to keep fresh and wholesome, and only by movement and work can water preserve its freshness. I shall flow and flow while you will be forgotten."

The words of the river became true. The pond grew smaller and smaller until it finally dried up in the dry clay and was forgotten.

The river flowed on and was honored by all men for its usefulness.

Church membership in America has multiplied four times as fast as the population since 1800, according to a report submitted recently to the National Committee for Religious and Welfare Recovery. In 1800 only one out of every 50 persons belonged to a Protestant church and out of 50, 3 to a Catholic church. The figures indicate that today one out of four belongs to a Protestant church and one out of six to the Catholic.

Lesson for October 21

THE CHRISTIAN AT PRAYER

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 6:5-15; Ephesians 3:14-21.

GOLDEN TEXT—Reloading in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing instant in prayer. Romans 12:12.

PRIMARY TOPIC—How to Pray. Taught His Disciples.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Learning How to Pray.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Prayer as Fellowship With God.

1. False Prayer (vv. 5, 7, 8).

1. Praying to be seen and heard of men (v. 5). To go through the act of praying with such an object is to play the hypocrite. In praying, the soul is dealing with God; therefore, to engage in it to attract men's attention is blasphemy. Many of the prayers uttered in the public sanctuary are false, for there is more consideration given to what the people think than to what God thinks. Men who thus pray get a reward, but not from God.

2. Using vain repetitions (vv. 7, 8). This does not mean that we should ask but once for the things desired, for we have examples of Christ and Paul praying three times for the same thing (Matt. 26:39-46; 2 Cor. 12:7, 8). It means the use of meaningless repetitions, their repetitions becoming empty sounds. To thus pray is heathenish. The heathen nations in their worship engage in senseless babble, an example of which is seen in the priests of Baal on Mount Carmel (1 Kings 18:26). The reason is plain, "Your Father knoweth what things ye have need of" (v. 8).

11. True Prayer (v. 6).

Since true prayer is a definite transaction of the soul with God, the communion of the human personality with the divine personality, we should have a real desire for fellowship with God and then go to meet him in secret.

Life for its fullest development needs both solitude and companionship. Solitude alone makes one morose, while constant companionship makes one shallow. God who made us knew what our natures require, therefore he commands both public and private prayer (Heb. 10:25; Matt. 6:6). We should have our closest prayers, when all the world, its cares and pleasures, is shut out, and we are shut in with God. We should also meet with God's children and pray together.

111. A Model Prayer (vv. 9-15).

This was given in response to the disciples' request that the Lord would teach them to pray (Luke 11:1). It is not, therefore, strictly the Lord's prayer for the disciples. It involves:

1. A right relationship (v. 9). One must be in such relationship as to be able to say "Our Father." Only those who have become children of God by faith in Jesus Christ (Gal. 3:26) can pray aright.

2. A right attitude (vv. 9, 10). "Hallowed be thy name." When one realizes that he has been delivered from the power of darkness and translated into the kingdom of his dear Son (Col. 1:13) by being made a child of God, he cannot help pouring out his soul in gratitude and praise, intensely longing for the kingdom—that is, the righteous rule of Christ on the earth.

3. A right spirit (vv. 11-13).

a. That of trust which looks to God for the supply of daily bread. We are dependent upon him for our daily food. With all man's boasted progress, he cannot make a harvest.

b. That of love which results in forgiveness of others. God will not listen to the prayers of the one who has an unforgiving spirit.

c. That of holiness which moves one to pray not to be led into temptation. Such a one longs to be delivered from the Evil One.

IV. Paul's Prayer for the Ephesians (Eph. 3:14-21).

1. To whom made (vv. 14, 15). It was to the Father of the Lord Jesus Christ.

2. For what he prayed (vv. 16-19).

a. For the strengthening of the inner man by the Holy Spirit (v. 16).

b. For Christ's indwelling (v. 17). The human personality needs the quickening of the Spirit in order that it might be a fit place for Christ to dwell.

c. That they might be rooted and grounded in love (v. 17). The only way that real love can flow from the human heart is through Christ's indwelling.

d. The apprehension of Christ's love (vv. 18, 19). This love, in its depth, breadth, width, and height, transcends human understanding.

3. The triumphant assurance that this will be realized (vv. 20, 21). This realization, which is beyond human ability to even think, is to be accomplished by the indwelling of the Holy Spirit.

Pass Through Fire

Christians are like vases, they must pass through the fire ere they can shine. And often the very furnace and the flame, which they call destruction, are only burning in the graces which are to be their everlasting beauty and glory.

WHAT CAN BE DONE TO INCREASE CHURCH ATTENDANCE?

Roger Babson, the statistician, has been making surveys regarding church attendance and has made the following suggestions: Each church should develop a definite spiritual and intellectual goal and develop a clientele accordingly.

Should work for the economic well being of its people.

The physical characteristics of the church should be improved, especially its ventilation.

The character of the church members must be improved, to commend the church to non-attendants.

Records of church attendance are very important and should be reported at annual meetings.

There should be rigid standards of membership.

Sermons that are preached should be vitalized.

The influence of the home must be for church attendance.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN HAVE OCTOBER MEETING

The Presbyterian Women's Social club held its October meeting in the social rooms of the church, Friday evening. The stage was artistically decorated with jardinières of colorful chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Clara Dresbach, the new club president, presided at the business session, which was opened with prayer by Mrs. E. S. Toensmeier. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Harp Van Riper, club secretary.

Mrs. Dresbach appointed Mrs. Glenn I. Nickerson, chairman of the hostess committee for November to be assisted by Mrs. Donald Watt, Mrs. Leslie May, Mrs. H. G. Stevenson, Mrs. J. L. A delightful program, under the direction of Mrs. Ward Robinson, assisted by Mrs. E. E. Smith, followed. The first number was a piano duet by Mrs. Toensmeier and her pupil, Miss Ruth Robinson. For an encore they played a "Minuet" by Mozart.

The next number consisted of a group song service, Mrs. Toensmeier accompanying the group on the piano. A hilarious anagram contest followed, and Miss Ruth Robinson in her imitable manner next gave a piano solo entitled "Song of India."

Conversations groups were formed and interesting topics were discussed at open forum by the group leaders.

A social session ensued and the guests were invited to a beautifully appointed table complete in its color scheme for Halloween, where delectable refreshments, appropriate for the occasion were dispensed. Mrs. Toensmeier presided at the table.

Drop Titles for Commoner Roles

Princess Xenia

Princess Julia Cantacuzene

America's "royalty" appears to be beating a swift retreat from titles of nobility. Princess Julia Cantacuzene, who was born Julia Dent Grant in the White House during the presidency of her grandfather, General U. S. Grant, is resuming her U. S. citizenship. After her forthcoming divorce in Florida from her former Russian nobleman husband, she plans to vote G. O. P. as just plain "Mrs." Princess Xenia of Greece, who married playboy William B. Leeds, millionaire tin-plate heir, is seeking legal permission to drop her royal title since her divorce a few years ago.

85 ATTEND GRANGE HALLOWE'EN PARTY

A most enjoyable social affair was the Halloween party sponsored by Logan Elm Grange, Friday evening, at the Pickaway-twp school. The auditorium was appropriately decorated for the merry party and the Halloween color scheme was carried out in the serving of refreshments during the evening.

Eighty-five members and guests enjoyed the fun before unmasking. The judges, Mrs. Noah Spangler, Mrs. Clara Dresbach, Ralph Head and Otis Leist chose the costumes worn by Mrs. Shirley Dresbach and Maurice Jury as the prettiest and most comical, respectively. Children receiving prizes for the same were Gene Warner and Junior French.

Old time music was furnished during the evening by the Minnich family.

The committee in charge of the successful affair included Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Dreisbach, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Montelius and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Jury.

24 LOCAL PERSONS HEAR RACHMANINOFF

Twenty-four Circleville persons were in the large crowd that heard Rachmaninoff, the famous Russian composer and pianist, at Memorial hall in Columbus, Friday night, when the season's first of the civic concert series was presented.

The local group was comprised of Mrs. S. T. Ruggles, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Adkins, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Renick, Mrs. James P. Moffitt, Mrs. Ione Reichelderfer, Miss Abbe Clarke, Miss Gretchen Meiler, Miss Mary Heffner, Miss Mary Mettler, Miss Eleanor Snyder, Mrs. C. G. Stewart, Miss Anna Schleyer, Mrs. T. C. Harper, Miss Virginia Harper, Carl Palm, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Van Vleet, Mrs. Theodore Huston, and Misses Evangelia and Catherine Smith.

Mrs. Moffitt and Miss Heffner were dinner guests preceding the concert at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hedges, Columbus.

MRS. ROUNDHOUSE HOSTESS AT BRIDGE

Mrs. Andrew Roundhouse, W. High-st., entertained with a delightful afternoon party, Friday, at her home for the pleasure of Mrs. Vera Young of Marietta, Ill., who has been visiting the hostess and Mrs. Fred Donnelly.

With the awarding of high score favors to Mrs. Fred Donnelly and Mrs. Charles Wade, the honored guest was presented a lovely gift. Guests were Mrs. Young and Mrs. Charles Wade and Mrs. Charles Ludwig of Chillicothe, Mrs. Fred Donnelly, Mrs. John Carle, Mrs. Fred Roundhouse and Mrs. Denny Shelby.

On Friday, October 12 Atlanta defeated Clarksburg by a score of 25 to 21.

Our basketball schedule for this year is as follows:
December 7—Walnut at Atlanta.

The Walnut-Atlanta game does not affect the girls' tournament entries.

The schedules have been arranged so that in two years each team plays every other team in the county.

A new ruling that may have great effect on girls' basketball is the elimination of the center jump which is to be replaced by a toss-in from the side lines.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

Abandoning Blue Eagle of Administration

WASHINGTON — The famous Blue Eagle which a little more than a year ago swooped down upon the Nation with all the ballyhoo of wartime frenzy now may go the way of its creator.

The question of its future fate is before inner Administration councils. Some favor complete abandonment, some favor restriction to coded industries. Probably a decision will not come until the permanent plan of the NRA is agreed upon.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture M. L. Wilson is displaying with much gusto a prized memento of his farm beet inspection trip. It consists of a rubber $5 bill. Wilson says he is going to present to Secretary Morgenthau.

Big Jim Farley is one of the most approachable men in Washington, but there is one class of visitors he flees. He has a standing order with his doorman not to admit philatelists. Reason is the stamp-collectors are having a big row among themselves over the first day distribution of new stamps, and Jim does not want to become embroiled in the wrangle.

Aviation Politics

Politics has been creeping into the National Aeronautical Association. Its recent president, ex-Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, was accused of swinging the association toward the Republicans. He was a staunch supporter of the airmail companies which drew luscious contracts from Postmaster General Walter Brown. Now he is replaced by Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, staunch Democrat. Although not generally known, McAdoo was head of an aviation line which tried to get contracts from Walter Brown, but was frozen out in the now famous "spoils conference". Both McAdoo and Bingham are personally aviation enthusiasts, the California Senator making trips home in his private plane.

One of the difficulties encountered by Jimmy Moffett in his drive of forty years ago as well as when he was Vice-President. And he loves to tell them. "And then," says Charlie, "I put on my hat and went down to the White House to see Bill McKinley." There are 54 separate coordinating and advisory agencies directing the forces of the New Deal in Washington. Makers of oil burners are getting aboard the Moffett band-wagon. Their latest slogan is: "Federal Housing Act Makes it Easy to Buy an Oil Burner." The FHA gives low credit terms to promote purchase in the same way that the Electric Home and Farm Authority—offshoot of TVA—encourages installment buying of household improvements. Manufacturers of electric washing machines, not yet included in the EHFA program, claim they are discriminated against. That Tennessee Valley laundry owners have stacked the cards against them.

TIGERS, PUT UP FIGHT, LOSE

Delaware Scores 6-0 Victory Pushing Over Touchdown in Second Period; Tiger Passes Fail to Connect as Fifth Consecutive Shut-out is Taken.

The Tigers took it on the chin Friday, for the fifth straight time this season, and at the same time sustained the fifth dose of white wash but they put up a fight before they lost to Delaware, 6-0, in a Central Buckeye league game.

Any one of several passes, which almost made connections, might have provided a different story but that little spark that is the difference between a winning and losing team was missing.

The Tigers have yet to play Westerville and Huxley, probably the strongest teams in the CBL and London, an independent game, before their season is closed.

GET BREAK, LOSE IT

A series of transfers of the ball featured the early minutes of the game with honors being about even. Jim Turney, college town quarterback, put the Red and Black in hot water with a long run after the first kick-off but Otis Mader covered his fumble a moment later to start the ball back up the field. Mader returned the compliment a little later by fumbling in midfield. A pretty pass on the first Tiger offensive play, Speakman to Grant, from a kick formation took the ball to that spot. It's perfection surprised the Delaware team as well as the crowd.

Although Delaware was able to negotiate five first downs they were held scoreless the first period. It didn't take long in the second period, however, before Turney, Shisler and Hack carried the ball straight down the field in three consecutive first downs ending with Shisler crashing over from the two-foot line. Downing's placement was inches wide of the goalposts.

TWO PENALTIES HURT

The Tigers had an opportunity shortly before the end of the half but two 15-yard penalties for using hands on the offense, and for a substitute talking before a single play is made carried them back. Griffith was guilty of the former and Plum of the latter.

After an uneventful third period when the Tigers looked better than the invaders a Red and Black offensive in the early part of the fourth period was ended after a Circleville pass from the 33 yard line in Delaware's territory was intercepted by a Delaware back.

The remainder of the game featured Delaware's defensive efforts in bogging down Circleville's backage of passes with Normie Coleman tossing nearly all of them. As said before, a couple of them were nearly completed—but not quite.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

BEXLEY ON TOP

Bexley, Nov. 2, was in undisputed possession of first place in the Central Buckeye league today after turning in a hard fought 6 to 0 victory over Grandview, arch rival. The Bexleyites have two games yet to play—Westerville, believed to be the strongest team in the loop, prior to Friday, went down to a 7-6 defeat at the hands of Jerry Kingmores's Marysville boys. The Union countians are plenty tough on their gridiron.

LUND VS. WEISENBAUGH

Pittsburgh, today, was holding the center of the football spotlight with a national championship, even this early in the season, possibly hanging on the outcome—Minnesota, a great team, is the Panther foe. We've picked Pitt to win but the result seems to be a toss-up anyway you look at it—Minnesota has Pug Lund and Pitt has Weisenbaugh.

WATTS FOR WATTS

When something happens to one Watts another takes his place and does his job well—Friday, Bob Watts, regular guard, was not able to take part in the game because of an infected foot; his twin, Rodrick, stepped into the breach and played a mighty nice game.

Some gridiron scores: Zanesville, 21; Lancaster, 0. Washington, C. H., 33; Hillsboro, 0.

Urbana, 13; London, 7. Columbus East, 20; Central, 13. North, 0; South, 0. West, 7; Aquinas, 6. Academy, 27; St. Mary's, 0. Chillicothe, 7; Marietta, 6.

This play of Jim Turney in the Delaware backfield featured while that of Banks, dusky tackle, was outstanding in the line. Coleman was the Tigers' best offensive threat. Speakman, Bell and Osborne backed up the line well on defense while the work of Rod Watts and Grant in the line was outstanding.

DUST HURT PLAY

A desert of dust made play difficult and punishing to the griders.

Although we've always sided with Rodney Ross as a grid official, his work in Friday's game was not so hot. From the sidelines it seemed that he called several plays wrong. Twice the result was disastrous to the Tigers.

The school band as usual did its tricks in fine fashion.

STEAMERS WARNED OF APPROACH OF NEW MANILA STORM

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 20—A new typhoon was scheduled to strike Manila, still staggering under the smashing blows of Tuesday's disastrous storm, late today.

The weather bureau here hoisted signals and radioed warnings to all shipping, urging vessels to make harbor at once.

Communications were still paralyzed as a result of Tuesday's storm and it was impossible to warn provincial capitals of the impending blow.

The weather bureau this morning reported that the present typhoon is now near Daet Camarines Norte, and if the present direction and velocity continue it will strike Manila sometime this evening.

Ohio Star Injured

Dick Heekin

Hopes of Ohio State for more victories in the current football season have been dimmed by the removal of Dick Heekin, above, from the lineup because of a leg injury. Halfback Heekin's running has featured Ohio's games in the past two years.

BRUNO RUSHED

of a charge that a brutal third degree had been given their prisoner on his first night in New Jersey.

Col. Schwarzkopf said: "They tell me you know the roads down this way when you came down tonight."

Hauptmann paced across his cell, puffing on a cigarette, and replied:

"Of course I know the roads down here. I have passed through here before. But I was never in Hopewell."

Wilentz spoke: "You still say you didn't write the ransom notes?"

"I never saw them before they were showed to me on Tuesday."

Colonel Schwarzkopf led Bruno over the ground he had covered so many times before—his possession of the ransom money and the automatic pistol, the writing of Dr. John F. "Jafie" Condon's name on the wall of his New York apartment. But Hauptmann, shaken though he was, stuck to his protests of innocence.

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Oct. 20—Five guards will be assigned to the task of watching Bruno Richard Hauptmann day and night in Flemington jail—three by night and two during the day.

Four steel doors, sawproof bars and an intricate system of locks stand between the prisoner and liberty—and also possible mob violence. Three thousand spectators gave vent to a disturbing murmur when he arrived last night, and forty state troopers held them back as they pressed forward for a better glimpse of the German.

From his cell Hauptmann can see across the prison yard and into the courtroom where his fate will be decided. About ten miles away is Hopewell, from where he is accused of seizing baby Lindbergh.

BUCKS INVADE EVANSTON FOR WILDCAT FRAY

Next Conference Test Comes On Foreign Ground; Won Last Year 12 To 0.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 20.—Ohio State University's football team will jump back into the thick of the Western conference war next week-end when it travels to Evanston for a clash with Dick Hanley's Wildcats. A victory in this game will give the Buckeyes a conference standing of two games won and one lost.

The Ohio Staters took time out today for an inter-sectional game with Colgate which had no bearing on the conference struggle. For the remainder of the season, with one exception, the Buckeyes will stay within their own league.

TWO WEEKS' REST

Northwestern should be in the heat of condition when it meets the Scarlet next Saturday. On Oct. 13 the Purple played on the west coast and was idle today, having two weeks of practice to prepare for the Ohio State game.

Coach Francis A. Schmidt is still a long way from being satisfied with his team but claims the only remedy is a lot of kicking and hard hours of practice. Then, too, there is a possibility that there will be more juggling of men although by this time Schmidt has his mind made up as to what each man can do and can't do on the field.

Ohio State defeated Northwestern here last year by a score of 12 to 0. Then Hanley had a group of sophomores. This year they will be more experienced while the Buckeye team will be well filled with first year men.
